

Stuck in unwanted contracts?

Being stuck in a telecommunications contract that isn't serving its purpose is no good for any business.

The team at Connect Comms are on hand to help businesses find more suitable systems - all cost free!

Connect Comms guarantee excellent customer service and won't rest until you're 100% satisfied with your communication systems.

NEC Systems

Connect Comms are an official partner with NEC systems! Here are some reliable and cost-efficient options if you're unhappy with your current telecoms contract:

The SV9100

This is a fantastic communication system for businesses of all sizes.

The SV9100 makes for quicker and better-informed business decisions, without having to wait for the next team meeting.

Not only this, the system also allows you to respond to customer requests quickly, thus increasing reliability and putting you ahead of competitors!

The SL2100

It's easy to miss important calls when you're on the go! The SL2100 system, supplied by Connect Comms, allows you to twin your mobile phone with your desktop phone so you never miss an opportunity.

The SL2100 also allows you to work remotely or from a home office, meaning you save on travel and workspace costs. Additionally, you can participate in video conferencing and even sharing documents.

If you're interested in any of the systems Connect Comms supply or their other services, feel free to call them on 0161 951 7059 and a member of the team will be more than happy to discuss your telecoms with you.
